Larry, you're exactly right! Gail Borden's father and mother had adopted Elizabeth Saunders Walden because she only had Gail (a boy) and wanted a girl. Hiram Van Norman was working for Mr. Borden and fell in love with Elizabeth, who had been orphaned young. The Bordens and the Van Normans came to Amite Co together. The Bordens went on to Texas along with two of the Van Norman boys, and Gail Borden had many, many inventions, besides that of Bordens Condensed Milk.

Thank you for thinking of me regarding the Van Norman family!

Interested in contacting anyone connected in any way to the Van Norman family of Amite County. Have written a Van Norman book and am working on an update, and wish to get this family down to the present day. Aaron Van Norman was "the blacksmith of Liberty", and had many descendants.

Please contact me! Lois of SoCal

Lois--
Found some info on VAN NORMAN.
HIRAM VAN NORMAN, who married GAIL BORDEN's step sister, moved from Indiana to Liberty bringing GAIL BORDEN, who was a small boy at the time. If you remember, GAIL BORDEN condensed the first can of milk. (NOW BORDEN MILK).
